

Text: Fundamentals of Number Theory, by William J. LeVeque

There will be three components to the course grade: homework, two exams in class, and a final exam. The weights of these items in determining your course grade are:

| | |
|----------|----------|
| homework | 40% |
| exams | 20% each |
| final | 20% |

The final will be comprehensive. Homework typically will be due weekly. I will collect homework and grade some, but sometimes not all, of the problems. The problems will be graded for neatness, clarity and completeness as well as correctness: if I have trouble reading or understanding a solution, you will get little or no credit. Explain your work; use complete sentences.
