

Student Handout #2 (Close Reading Exercise #1)

Instruction: Read Passage B following the same protocol as the previous passage; that is, underline emotional language, circle qualifiers, and star tone shifts.

Once you've done that:

Phase 3: Comparative Analysis:

1. Contrasting Metaphors The first passage called LLMs an "existential earthquake." This passage calls them a "brehtaking dawn." How do these two metaphors change your physical or emotional reaction to the technology before you even read the supporting details?

2. The Use of "Admittedly" vs. "Inevitably" The first passage says we are "inevitably" hurtling toward a dark reality. This passage says LLMs are "admittedly" in their infancy.

- Which word feels more objective?
  - How does the word "admittedly" make the author of Passage 2 seem more "reasonable" or "fair-minded"?

3. Identifying the Villain In Passage 1, the "villain" is the technology/Silicon Valley. In Passage 2, who or what is the "villain" or the obstacle to progress? (Look at the final sentence).

---

We'll finish up the exercise with a class discussion.
